The Lost Toy

— PART 1 —

Elsa thinks WINTER is the MOST MAGICAL TIME OF YEAR, so she is visiting her sister, Anna, in ARENDELLE to enjoy some time with her during this season. As the two sisters are chatting and walking down the docks, they see A LITTLE BOY crying on a bench. “Why are you so sad?” asks Anna, kneeling by him.

“I’ve lost OSKAR, MY STUFFED FOX!” the boy answers, thinking of his best friend. “Besides, I’ve heard that the POLAR NIGHTS are coming! My father told me that darkness will last for an entire week!” he adds, worried. “I can’t sleep without Oskar. I’m afraid of the dark!”

“What’s your name?” asks Elsa kindly. “I’m Eirik!” the boy answers. “Don’t worry, Eirik, there’s nothing to be scared of!” the Snow Queen tells him. At that moment Eirik’s father, a trader from a southern kingdom, comes over. “I’m sorry, son, but I can’t help look for Oskar right now. I have to work.”

“With your permission, we’d love to help Eirik SEARCH for his stuffed toy,” Anna offers. The trader accepts gratefully. “It’s very kind of you. Eirik’s never been to Arendelle, and in your hands, I know he won’t get lost.”

Then he heads off. “What did you do with Oskar today?” asks Elsa. “We had a snack in the main SQUARE. You know, Oskar loves cookies!” answers Eirik. “Great! Let’s start our search from there!” says Elsa.

As they are leaving the docks to reach the square, Eirik suddenly stops. The sun is setting below the horizon. “Oh, no! Night is already coming!” the boy exclaims. Anna smiles. “Great! Let’s enjoy THE SHOW!” “What show?” asks Eirik. “THE MAGICAL COLORS OF THE POLAR NIGHTS!” explains Anna, pointing at the skyline.

Elsa waves her hands, creating ICY CRYSTALS that float in the air and reflect the incredible colors of the sky and the surface of the fjord. It’s a STUNNING spectacle that leaves Eirik speechless! “And there are MORE MAGICAL THINGS TO SEE as we look for Oskar,” says Anna, taking Eirik by the hand.

The little boy happily walks with Anna and Elsa into the village, where the Arendellians are starting to LIGHT UP THEIR HOUSES with lanterns and candles. “What are all these lights for?” asks Eirik. “Everybody puts out candles that TWINKLE LIKE THE STARS IN THE SKY to celebrate the beginning of the POLAR NIGHTS,” explains Elsa.

Anna approaches a woman who is decorating the door of her house. “Did you happen to see a STUFFED FOX?” she asks her. “No, I’m sorry, Your Majesty,” answers the woman. “But all the children are building THE SHINERS and might know more about the lost toy!” “The shiners?” exclaims Eirik. “Wait until you see them!” says Elsa.

When they arrive at the main square, it looks like a magical place: the village children are making lots of SPECIAL SNOWMEN THAT HOLD LANTERNS, creating beautiful light effects. They call them the shiners. Anna, Elsa, and Eirik ask the kids if they have come across Oskar, but no one has seen him.

Eirik is surprised to see all those kids PLAYING IN THE DARK. “Are they not afraid?” he asks. “Not at all! They are excited to do what they can’t usually do when darkness comes late!” says Anna.

“Like telling stories around a campfire or making SNOW ANGELS in the dark!” adds Elsa with a bright smile. Eirik looks again at all those children giggling on the snow. They seem very HAPPY!

“Darkness is not a bad thing,” says Anna. “It’s CALMING AND RESTFUL, and it helps us see the stars!” adds Elsa. Then Anna lies down in the snow. “This is the best way to look at the STARRY SKY!” Eirik lies down next to her and looks up. “Wow! I’ve never seen so many stars!” he exclaims, astonished.

Then Eirik gets even more curious as he sees a dusty band in the sky. “What’s that giant patch of light?” he asks. Anna tenderly smiles. “The ancient Greeks called it the MILKY WAY because it looks like milk spilled across the sky,” she explains. “I wish Oskar was here to see it,” Eirik whispers, a bit saddened.

The Lost Toy

— PART 2 —

Eirik and the sisters have searched everywhere, but there is no sign of the lost toy in the town square. Suddenly, OLAF SHOWS UP. “There you are!” he says, happily running toward Anna and Elsa. “A talking snowman!” exclaims Eirik, looking at Olaf with amazement.

The snowman giggles and hugs the boy. “Hi, I’m Olaf, and I LIKE WARM HUGS!” Eirik warmly hugs him back. “Kristoff says that tonight is the right night to see the NORTHERN LIGHTS!” announces Olaf to his friends. “The Northern Lights?” asks Eirik, puzzled. “What are they?”

“They are MYSTERIOUS LIGHTS that COLOR THE NIGHT SKY. They are part of the magic of the Polar Nights!” explains Elsa. Anna beams and says: “According to an old legend, the lights are created when AN ENCHANTED FOX runs across a SNOWY MOUNTAIN and sends MAGICAL SPARKLES into the sky.”

Eirik’s eyes light up: he can’t believe what he just heard. “OSKAR!!!” he exclaims, thinking of his best friend. “Please, let’s go see the Northern Lights!” he suggests, excited, hoping to find his stuffed fox soon.

Soon after, KRISTOFF AND SVEN arrive with their sled. They are very happy to take their friends up to the mountains, where they can have a better view of the NORTHERN LIGHTS. Eirik is thrilled, because he has never before seen A REINDEER so close. When Sven lets the child sit on him, Eirik can't contain his joy.

The group arrives on top of a snow-covered hill, and SOMETHING MAGICAL HAPPENS: suddenly, YELLOW, GREEN, AND PURPLE LIGHTS start to dance across the night sky. It is a stunning show. "Look at that!" exclaims Olaf.

Anna hugs Eirik. “Now I know why Oskar left,” he tells her. “He had TO PAINT THE NORTHERN LIGHTS!” “Well, he did a great job!” Olaf says happily. The boy smiles: he’s very proud of his stuffed fox. “And when he’s done, he’ll visit someone else TO PROTECT THEM from the thing they are scared of, like he did with me!”

“FRIENDS always LIGHT UP OUR HEARTS and help us KEEP OUR FEARS AWAY, no matter where they are,” says Anna. Then Eirik slowly falls asleep in the sled as they head back to Arendelle. He is no longer afraid of the dark, since he knows he can always count on the LOVE OF HIS FRIENDS.

The End

Present Panic!

Our Frozen friends are celebrating the winter holidays by giving out presents to the children of Arendelle, but they're in a rush! You only have 10 minutes to help them complete the delivery. Ready... set... go!

HOW TO PLAY

This is a game for two to four players. CUT OUT the counters, the present tokens, and the die from the inside back cover. GLUE them to card stock and TRIM to fit. ASSEMBLE the die. When you land on a square with the picture of a present, DELIVER IT BY LEAVING ON THAT SPACE a matching present token. If you land on a space where a player already left their present token, you'll have to COLLECT IT. Whoever has the least presents when the timer runs out is the winner.

Lovely Lanterns

During the darkness of the polar nights, the twinkling lanterns in Arendelle provide some cheer outside.
